

Parents we are fast approaching the 100th day of School! Our class has been counting each day we've been in school with high anticipation of day 100. To commemorate the day, we will be having a fun class mini party. I am hoping that Zero the Hero will even be able to make a surprise class appearance to help us celebrate.

For homework this week, I am not sending anything to be uploaded. Also, no Spelling Test will be given on Monday February 10th. I would like the students to use this week to make a special 100 Day project at home (details below) and also, to study their Science Fair scripts and be ready for judging on Friday February 7th.

100th Day of School Project

Please have your child make a collection of 100 items. It can be anything small. For example; 100 cheerios, 100 buttons, 100 pom poms, 100 pennies, etc. Use these 100 items to form the number 100. I will provide the poster board that they will use to glue their 100 collection to. Please have your child bring their 100 collection to school on Day 100 (Monday Feb. 10th).

I'm excited to see all the collections and to have a fun 100 day celebration.

Please email me any questions you may have.
